

We will fight them on the carpet

by Mark & Dexter Bateman

We will fight them on the carpet

And across the bedroom floor

An evil army marches from the TV

Don't let them reach the door

Transformers hide in bed cover caverns

Zombies amass at the coffee stain

Mario leads our group of heroes

As good battles evil once again

Bowser watches from the kitchen surface

The fight he started kept at length

But the good have Harry Potter, Pikachu

And Spider-man with his super-strength

But Luigi's been taken prisoner

Held in the microwave

There are sharks in the bathtub

And the Batmobile's been chased away

Mummy's feeling frustrated

Daddy's growing sad

They don't see the worlds around them

And the fun that can be had

You're not trapped – you have your mind

So start a story and dive in

All you need is your imagination

And to know the good guys always win
